

Agenda

U.S. Department of Commerce
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
August 29, 2013

Meeting Regarding Lessons Learned from NTIA's First Privacy Multistakeholder Process

2:30 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.

American Institute of Architects, 1735 New York Ave. NW, Washington, DC

Meeting Goal: Discuss Stakeholder Views on How to Improve NTIA's Privacy Multistakeholder Process

- 2:30 p.m. Welcome (Lawrence E. Strickling, Assistant Secretary for Communications and Information and Administrator, NTIA)
- 2:40 p.m. How can NTIA make future processes operate more efficiently?
- 2:55 p.m. How can NTIA improve stakeholders' drafting and revision process for future codes of conduct?
- 3:10 p.m. How can NTIA better facilitate stakeholders' internal review and adoption of future codes of conduct?
- 3:25 p.m. How can NTIA improve the logistics for future multistakeholder meetings?
- 3:40 p.m. Are there ways for NTIA to improve the multistakeholder process that have not yet been discussed?
- 4:00 p.m. Farewell (John B. Morris, Jr., Associate Administrator and Director of Internet Policy, NTIA Office of Policy Analysis and Development)